

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Cazenovia Art Trail 2023
Visit Cazenovia-area Artist Studios

Cazenovia, New York – September 1, 2023

Discover the art and artists making Cazenovia one of the most colorful spots in Central New York! Visit the 2023 Cazenovia Art Trail on Saturday, 9/30 and Sunday, 10/1 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Artist studios and local “art hubs” will be open for visitors both days of the Art Trail. The event is free and open to the public.

Along the Cazenovia Art Trail visitors can meet participating artists where they bring their works to life. The Art Trail is pleased to present the following “art hubs” and individual artists participating in the 2023 Art Trail:

Peter Beasecker, potter; Carpenter’s Barn Studios; Cazenovia Area Painters; Cazenovia Artisans; Cazenovia Cut Block, woodworkers; Cazenovia Watercolor Society; Wayne Daniels, painter; Naomi Demuth, potter; Roger DeMuth, illustrator; Henry Drexler, painter; David Eichorn, woodworker; Marilyn Fegan, 3-D painter; Daniel Fox, painter; Shawn Gilmore, painter; Mary Gosden, painter; Jennifer Hooley, painter; Sally Hootnick, painter; Judith H. Levins, painter; Tammy Louco, painter; Liz Lurie, potter; Michael McBane, painter; Shawn McGuire, potter; Federico Meira, woodworker; Kathy Meira, painter; Mary Padgett, painter; Neal Parker, wood worker; Jenna Paulsen, painter; Susan Poet, quilter; Dave Porter, sculptor & painter; Rochelle Reed, mixed media artist; Carl Stearns, painter; Jerry Weimar, photographer; Deborah Dougherty Wester, painter.

The annual Art Trail, now celebrating its 11th year, has become a cornerstone for Cazenovia’s thriving arts community and an annual touch-point for central New York art lovers. A day trip to Cazenovia will offer visitors the opportunity to meet a variety of talented artists, a community of welcoming businesses, and nature’s display of fall colors in and around Cazenovia. Sponsored by the Cazenovia Area Community Development Association, (CACDA), the annual Art Trail includes multiple studios within walking distance in the historic village, while other studios may be reached by car.

Maps of the 2023 Cazenovia Art Trail can be downloaded from the Art Trail website, <https://art-trail.org/maps.html>. Printed maps will also be available at all artists' locations during the two-day weekend event.

Bicycle routes for all ability levels are available on the website for anyone wishing to explore the Art Trail by bike. Artists are prepared to hold any artwork purchased by bikers so they can pick it up at a later date.

Special points of interest along the 2023 Art Trail include the Cazenovia Farmers' Market for local produce and homemade goods, Saturday only, and The Pompey Historical Society, featuring handmade dolls of master doll maker Nancy Papini.

For more information about the event and this year's participating artists, visit art-trail.org, email arttrail@cacda.net, or "like" Cazenovia Art Trail on Facebook.

Contact:

Cathy Savage

arttrail@cacda.net or csavage1@frontiernet.net

Phone: 315.256.3221